DETAILED ACTION

1. The following communication is in response to Applicant's amendment filed 11 October 2005.

Status of Claims

2. Claims 1, 9 and 38 are currently amended. Claims 2-8 and 10-37 are originally filed. Therefore claims 1-38 are currently pending.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 11 October 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive as discussed below. Therefore claims 1-38 remain rejected as stated in the previous office action, mailed 06 July 2005.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1-6, 9-14, 17, 18, 20-32, and 35-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Perlman, U.S. Patent 6,829,779.

Claims 1-6, 9-14, 17, 18, 20-32, and 35-38 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Perlman as discussed in the previous office action, mailed 06 July 2005. Applicant has amended claim 1 to recite “navigating through the first virtual electronic device on the display to instruct a user how to use a feature of the first electronic device.” As discussed in the previous office action, Perlman discloses a user interface for entertainment system setup that navigates the features of particular system components to determine which other components may be connected and the necessary steps for connection (column 4, line 61 thru column 5, line 28). Continuing, Perlman also teaches providing instructions to a user in order to program a remote control so that the consumer can utilize the features of the remote control that allow it to communicate with other components in the setup (column 10, line 50 thru column 11, line 28). Thus the navigation teachings of Perlman allow moving from place to place by having the ability to display various system setups and options for connection. Therefore claim 1 remains rejected and Applicant’s arguments are not persuasive. Claims 9 and 38 contain similar amendments and therefore are rejected for the same reasoning as claim 1. Remaining claims 2-8 and 10-37 are rejected based on their dependency and as stated in the previous office action. Therefore claims 1-38 are rejected and Applicant’s request for allowance is respectfully declined.
